Human Resource Management

McKendree's graduate program in Business Administration focuses on advanced integrated learning experiences in which the students apply critical thinking, problem solving, and team building skills in an environment in which they can learn from the faculty and from each other.

The MBA in Human Resource Management is designed for students who desire a deeper understanding of human capital operations. This program is intended to enrich an undergraduate degree in the fields of Business Administration (BBA) or Human Resource Management (HRM), as well as the professional certifications offered through the Society of Human Resource Management (SHRM).

Throughout the MBA-HRM program, students will gain insight into ethical and business problem solving issues through courses incorporating individual and group work, written assignments, and oral presentations.

Education for the Real World

The McKendree University Kentucky Campuses MBA program is designed to meet the needs of the working adult. It is expected that students entering the program will have at least two years of professional experience and may be employed while they pursue their studies.
